

Gerber's Opportunity Sale

Visitors to the Tri-State Fair

Have the privilege, as well as Memphians, to participate in our OPPORTUNITY SALE

The month-end bargain event known throughout Memphis and the surrounding territory as being one of the greatest saving occasions in mercantile circles—

To those out-of-town visitors who have never had the opportunity before of participating in one of these sales, featured twelve times a year, will have revealed to them the greatest savings possible, and we feel that the values offered will be an incentive for them to make return visits to the store on future OPPORTUNITY DAYS.

These sales are all they promise to be, representing savings far and beyond any at any other time during the month. We were and are actuated by the best business policy in curtailing high cost of living as much as is in our power through the medium of these sales.

You know as well as we do that we could retail every dollar's worth of merchandise in these sales at full price, but we realize as well as you that some check is imperative upon the present prices in the cost of the essentials of living, and we interpose such a check by offering

Hundreds and Hundreds of Lots of Staple Merchandise

At one-quarter, one-third, one-half price

We cannot, in any way, overemphasize your buying all the staple articles published in this sale, not only for the price concessions, but because market conditions are such that we have no assurance of when our limitations will permit of values such as these being obtainable again.

Opportunity Sale tomorrow, starting at 8:30 a. m.

ONLY TWO SPEECHES FOR STATE LAWYERS

Judge Wilson Spoils Bar Association From Mass of Oratory.

A. Mitchell Palmer, attorney-general of the United States, and William C. Fitts, assistant attorney-general, will be the principal speakers and guests of honor at the convention of the Tennessee Bar association on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week.

As president of the state organization Judge Julian C. Wilson of Memphis has arranged a very attractive business and social program for the two days and an unusually large number of delegates are expected to be in attendance, partly because of the prominence of the two guests of honor.

On Tuesday night the delegates and guests will be entertained at a box party at the Orpheum theater and on Wednesday night a reception will be held at the home of Judge Wilson. These two affairs will constitute the social features of the program.

The sessions of the convention will be held in the Goodwyn institute on Tuesday and Wednesday. The usual large number of papers by delegates will be dispensed with at this session of the state association. The annual address of the president which is required by the constitution of the association will be the only address other than those to be delivered by Mr. Fitts on Tuesday and by Mr. Palmer on Wednesday.

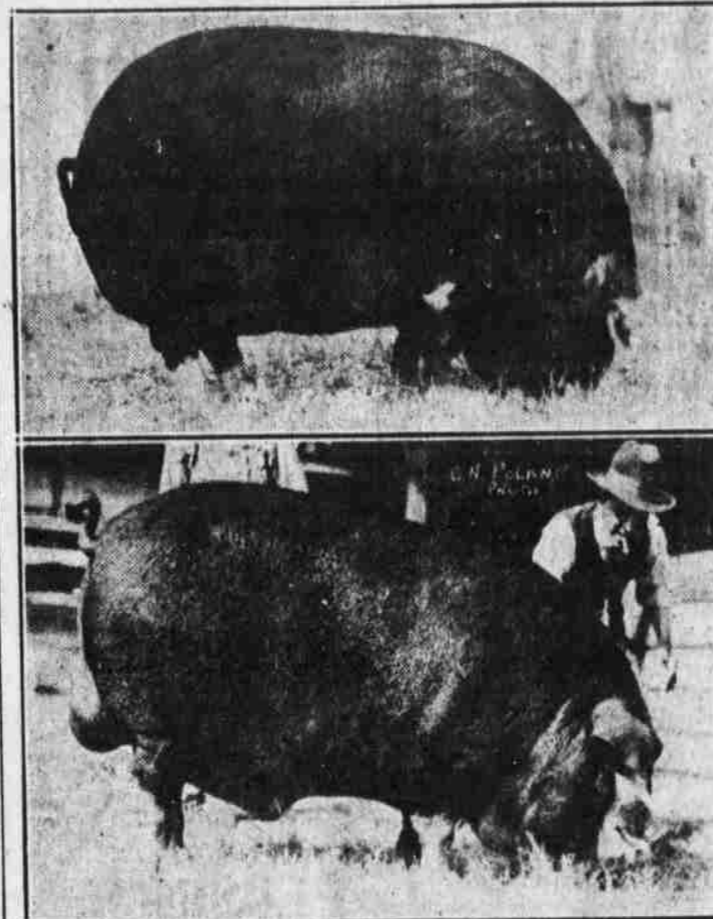

Reports of committees will be received during the two days and informal discussion of these reports will be held but an effort has been made to get away from the time-honored custom of having a large number of delegates read dry papers on subjects that are not of widespread interest.

The reception to be held Wednesday night is primarily for the purpose of affording members of the Tennessee Bar association an opportunity to meet Mr. Palmer and Mr. Fitts.

As alien property custodian during the period of the war Mr. Palmer made a record that has placed him prominently before the people of the entire nation. Upon the resignation of Thomas W. Gregory as attorney-general Mr. Palmer was appointed by President Wilson. Mr. Palmer's name has been mentioned frequently as the Democratic candidate for president in 1920 and many of his friends believe that he will be very prominently identified with the list of candidates for the nomination.

Mr. Fitts has been identified with the attorney-general's department for a

Society Will Keep Up Health Crusade For Another Year

Decision to keep up the health crusade for another year was the feature of the meeting of the Shelby County Antituberculosis society after the monthly luncheon was enjoyed Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. L. M. Noblett, the secretary, made report of excellent work done during the summer. The health crusade among the children has accomplished so much that the opinion was unanimously in favor of continuing the work a second twelvemonth. The health pageant given at the Tri-State fair last Saturday night was reported a splendid success, with 250 children participating. The War Camp Community service co-operated with the Antituberculosis society in staging the spectacle. Bishop Thomas P. Galtor presided. Reports were made by the visiting committee and the committee on open-air schools. All were favorable same the one on conditions at the Tuberculosis hospital. These were reported extremely bad, no remedy having been provided from undesirable conditions previously reported. The need of early construction of the proposed new sanitarium was dwelt upon.

Mrs. Shubael T. Beasley was chosen director to fill a vacancy on the board. She was formerly president of the society. Thanks was voted to the newspapers of Memphis for liberality in both advertising and news columns for publicity given the society's work.

"The Egg Crate Wallop"

—Listen to This—

Thur. Fri. Sat. Thur. Fri. Sat.

While Jimmy Kelly hauled express
He thought of pretty Kitty.
And wondered what she saw in Woods,
His rival from the city.

One night when Jim, arrayed in style,
Was calling on his honey,
Woods cracked the safe where Jimmy
Worked
And stole a wad of money.

Jim feared his boss had copped the coin—
Fair Kitty's pa, Dave Haskell—
And hoped a freight, so folks would think
He was the daring rascal.

Jim hit Chicago, got a job
At helping train a fighter.
Who planned a fake with this same
A Woods,
"Till Jim exposed the blighter.
Then Jim went in the red ring
In fighting (ogs) but handed Woods
His famous "egg crate wallop!"

When Woods came to, he faced a charge
That landed him in prison.
And Jim went home, well healed with bills,
To claim the girl as his'n.

"The Egg Crate Wallop" packs SOME PUNCH!
Charles Ray's SOME battling hero!
Is Colleen Moore right there, with class?
"Maid out"—and, likewise, "Choer!"
—Russell Holman.
